Dear Families and Friends of our Residents here at the Mullen Home,

As we make our way through the month of St. Joseph in this beautiful “Year of St. Joseph” that the Church has proclaimed for 2021, I hope that all of you are feeling the power of his intercession and protection, as we are here at the Home.

This week has brought us another positive result on a Resident’s Coronavirus test—although in this case there is strong evidence that it might be a false positive. Nonetheless, because of this new development, the health authorities are requiring us to put our present visiting on hold, effective immediately, except for end-of-life visits. Window visits, however, are still a possibility.

If you wish to schedule a window visit, you may text Monica — who coordinates those — and we will bring your loved one to the main dining room center window at the front of the building at the scheduled time. Happily, these window visits can include more than one visitor at a time. A cell phone or other device for audio communication is suggested to enhance the visit, and we are able to provide one to the Resident if needed.

Thanks for bearing with us on this roller coaster ride of alternating liberties and limitations. As long as it keeps our dear residents safe and well, it will be worth it in the end.

May God bless you!
United in prayer,
