Dear Friends,

After a wonderful start to our week here at the Mullen Home, and then the blessing of our COVID booster clinic on Wednesday (which went very well), we now have the disappointing news of an employee testing positive for COVID after having been exposed to an outside individual who was later diagnosed with COVID. So please say a little prayer for the sick employee, and bear with us once again as we go back into the state-required "lockdown". Hopefully it will be of very short duration, but in the meantime we have to pause all visiting except for the compassionate care/end of life visiting.

But God is so good. We are grateful for the gift of the vaccine and the protection it gives us. Overall, things are getting better and better, so we still feel hopeful. Our dear residents are giving us such a beautiful example of serenity and cheerfulness in the face of disappointments, always ready for the sun to peek through the clouds once again—so we are, too!

God bless you all –
United in prayer,
Sr. Sarah, lsp
